THE WAR ON THE GAMBLING HOUSES. QUESTIONING THE LEGALITY OF THE ACTION OF THE POLICE-PROCEEDINGS AGAINST THE OWN-

The gambling implements seized by members of the Detective Squad on Monday night were placed in charge of the Property Clerk and packed away in the basement of Police Headquarters yesterday. What will be done with them is an open question, because the police have no right to destroy them until the persons who used them are convicted, and no arrests were made when the implements were ERS OF THE HOUSES.

what will be done with them is an open desaron; because the police have no right to desaroy them until the persons who used them are convicted, and no arrests were made when the implements were seized.

There was much confusion of opinions at Police Headquarters regarding the legality of the seizures. Section 345 of the Penal Code states that a person who is empowered to arrest gamblers is also empowered to seize the implements used by them. Subsequent sections seem to imply that a seizure of such implements is only justified by the arrest of the gamesters. There seemed to be good ground for belief that the proprietors of the gambling houses, invaded by the detectives on Monday night might bring suit for trespass and replevin their property. Police Commissioners, who were spoken to vesterday, said that they had instructed Inspector Byrnes to put a stop to gambling in the city, but they had not mapped out for him any line of action. It was left to him to enforce the law in any way that he thought proper to adopt. The police captains bad reported to the Superintendent that they were unable to break up the gambling houses. Public sentiment demanded that the laws against gambling should be enforced, and the Commissioners had come to the conclusion that the captains were not as much in earnest as they might be in their efforts to stop gaming. Commissioner Matthews, the only lawyer in the Board, wrote out what he was willing to say on the subject as follows: "It is my desire to see the law for the prevention of gambling strictly and thoroughly enforced and dislike very much to say a single word that will in the slichtest descree interfere with or embarrass the efforts of the police in its suppression. At the same time I am of the opinion that unless an arrest is made, or authorized to be made by warrant, no gambling apparatus can be seized. Of course I may be in error, but as I read the Penal Code I am afraid that the law is a little weak as to the science of the properties of the properties of the properties of the

Some comment was made yesterday on the fact that while "raiding" No. 11 West Twenty-fourthst, no descent was made on No. 5 in the same street, which is text door to the Hoffman House bar. No. 11 was kept by Charles Ransom, who says that he was a general in the Confederate Army. He married some years ago the then beautiful Emily Thorne, the actress, an aunt of the late Charles R. Thorne. He abandoned her on discovery of the fact that she was in love with a rival gambler, and she thereupon was married to John Chamberlain, another notorious gambler, who subsequently failed in his business, and his wife has since had to return to the stage. She is now a member of Mr. Pitt's Company at the Bijou Theatre, where she plays nightly in "Caste." No. 5. which was not "raided," is kept by Reed & Spencer. It was formerly owned by John Morrissey. Reed also has a stable of racehorses and controls the race-course and the Morrissey "club" house at Saratoga. He owns the building No. 5 West Twenty-fourth-st., for which he was recently offered nearly $100,000 by Stokes & Reed, of the Hoffman House, who have bought Timonton's Turkish Bath building adjoining for $75,000. Reed is said to have asked $105,000, which Stokes refused to pay. It was designed to build an addition to the hotel on the site of the two buildings if it had been obtained.

FEVER CASES ON WASHINGTON BEIGHTS.

Sanitary Superintendent Day said yesterday that he had not received any report from Sanitary Engineer O wens regarding the condition of the Croton water on Washington Heights. The water is being examined by Mr. Owens partly at the request of persons living in the neighborhood, who think that the water in the service pipes is impure. Dr. Day thinks that the recent epidemic of typhoid fever in the district was not caused by impurities in the Croton water, or in any unilk sold to the afflicted families. Dr. Janes, the Assistant Sanitary Superintendent, asid that impure water often caused mularial fovers which strongly resembled tire typhoid fever. Both Dr. Day and, Dr. Janes are believers in the theory that typhoid fever originates from distinctive typhoid germs which cannot be detected by either chemical or microscopic analyses. Gases emanating from stagmant water in the dead ends of Croton pipes would not, in their opinion, contain any typhoid germs, although water impregnated with such gases might be injurious to heathly.

Seth C. Hawley, Chief Cierk of the Police Department, lives at One-hundred-and-fifty-fifth-st, and that lives at One-hundred-and-fifty-fifth-st, and the Boulevard. Mr. Hawley said, in speaking of the matter: "Since my family have been obliged to use the Croton water we have suffered from blood-poisoning. We drink as little of the water as possible. I have asked more than one Combon blood-poisoning. We drink as little of the water as possible. I have asked more than one combon down and the drivers of sprinking carts to draw water from those hydrants, and they found the waters in the feed and the croton pipes opened at regular intervals, but my requests have not been complied with. I have paid the drivers of sprinking carts to draw water from those hydrants, and they found the waters of impure that their horses would not drink it."

JUSTICE 'PATTERSON'S EXPLANATION.

Peter Alphonse Seguin, the French preacher who was before Justice Patterson on Monday charged with beating his wife, was sent to Biackwell's Island yesterday for four months, in default of $1,000 bonds to keep the peace. In the report of Monday's proceedings it was said that the Justice told Mrs. Seguin that he thought her as bad as her husband, tadding: "His fault is that he doesn't beat you badly enough." A Trinunce reporter yesterday asked Justice Patterson if he had been correctly reported, and if so, what explanation there was for such encouragement of wife-beating.
"I am not certain that I used those very words," he rephed, "but I did speak very sharply to her. It occurred in my private room. A month ago Mrs. Seguin's sister had Seguin arrested on a charge of entering her room at night. Mrs. Seguin abused her sister and pleaded for her husband and finally the sister withdrew her charges. Seguin was finally sent to the Christian Home for Intemperate Men. I knew on Monday that Mrs. Seguin, after all her testimony regarding her husband's threats against her life, and his charges of assault, would beg me to release him. Well, a woman told me that Seguin in a half-nude condition had tried to enter her rooms, and then, as I expected, Mrs. Seguin began to defend her husband. She called the witness a liar and began to abuse her. I rebuked her saying as I recall the words now, 'You are acting very badly,' then turning to a minister near me I said, 'She is as bad as he is. She is treated too well.' I was so exasuerated by her conduct that I did speak very sharply to her. I was not on the bench."

THE NEW MEDICAL CODE IN BROOKLYN.

THE NEW MEDICAL CODE IN BROOKLYN.

The Kings County Medical Society met last night at No. 398 Fulton-st., Brooklyn, and discussed the new Medical Code. There was an unusually large number of physicians present. After the reading of papers on scientific subjects the question was raised on resolutions offered by Dr. Squibb at a previous meeting in which it was proposed that each member of the society should be requested to signify in writing his preference for the old code, the new code, or no code at all. The Kurgs County Society has previously voted in favor of the old code, prohibiting consultation with physicians not of the regular school. Dr. Kritchman read a short paper in which, after reviewing the action of the State Medical Society, he said: "The question has been settled for us. All we have to do is to act in accordance with the resolution of the State society, which requires the county societies to submit their by-laws so that they may be made to coincide with the rales of the State society." He then offered a resolution proposing that the society should accept the action of the State society, and that the council should be directed to see that the constitution be made to conform with the code adopted by the State Society. This THE NEW MEDICAL CODE IN BROOKLYN.

cil should be directed to see that the constitution be made to conform with the code adopted by the State Society. This resolution was afterward withdrawn, and on motion of Dr. Conklin, the whole subject was laid on the table by a vote of 54 to 30. The discussion was, however, subsequently renewed in spite of the adoption of a resolution that it was the feeling of the society that there should be no further discussion. A motion was finally made by Dr. Prout that the council of the society instructed to correspond with the State society in order that the by-laws might be made to correspond with the requirements of the new code. This motion was adopted without debate, and by a large majority.

TO OUR PATRONS AND THE PUBLIC.

A fire occurred on Sunday, April 15, in the basement of the building No. 57 Reade St., and extended thence to the lotts we have occupied for many years as our Mechanical Department—comprising our press-room, bindery, lithographic and stock rooms, etc., which are practically destroyed. The Agency department of our business at Nos. 279, 281, 283 Broadway, as well as the Executive Offices of the Company, suffered somewhat from water and smoke, but not a single report or record has been lost, not a document destroyed nor has a pound of the type, which makes up our Book of Reports, been disturbed. A slight temporary delay in serving our patrons with information was caused solely by the dampness which per vaded the Agency building, but this is now remedied. All the machinery, tools, etc., belonging to the A fire occurred on Sunday, April 15, in the basement of the remedied. All the machinery, tools, etc., belonging to the Mechanical Department will be replaced at once, and every portion of our work resumed without delay.
